WHAT THE GENERAL SAID!

A noted general being asked by some of his friends how he liked Texas, replied: "If I was obliged to choose between Hell and Texas I would choose the former." The above saying is verified every day by parties moving from the North East and South, and as they cannot decide exactly as to the existence of the former, they certainly avoid Texas and like sensible, industrious people seek a productive country such as Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska and the Far West. Reader, are you contemplating a trip to such a country on business or pleasure? If so select the line having the best facilities of cars and best accommodations. The Old Reliable Hannibal & St. Joseph R. R. (the Pioneer line west of the Mississippi River) offers you through Day Coaches and Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars from Chicago, Ills., Toledo, Ohio, and Indianapolis, Indiana, to the Missouri River without change. Tourist and land seekers round trip excursion tickets on sale by this popular route at all Leading Ticket Offices. For maps, time tables and description of country and route, or any other information about the West, call on or address

MR. LOCKWOOD'S GRIEVANCE.

During the last trip I took over the Pacific railroad, I noticed that after we left Omaha the man in the seat in front of me appeared to have something upon his mind. He would scowl diabolically for a moment, then he would gaze with a far away look out of his window. Then he would draw a huge bowie knife from his coat pocket, and after stripping it upon his boot he would run his thumb along the edge. After scowling a few minutes more, he would take out a revolver, examine the chambers to assure himself that they were loaded, mutter a few vigorous sentences, and then put it away again.

I watched him a day or two and at last he saw me looking at him. He said:

"I reckon you think I'm excited about something? Well, I am! I am going up to Salt Lake to kill a man."

"Indeed! how terrible! What is the matter?"

"Well, you see, by the way do you know Jim Stephens?"

"No, no! I think not."

"Well, this is the way that it came about. Twelve years ago Jim and I were friends, and when I got married Jim made me a present of the most splendid silver cake basket you ever saw in your life."

"That's not what you are going to kill him for, is it?"

"Of course not! And I felt so grateful that I took him by the hand and said, 'Jim, I'll get you a cake basket as handsome as that whenever you are married, as sure as my name is Lockwood.' I made him a solemn pledge, you know."

"Did he marry subsequently?"

"Marry? O thunder! let me tell you about it. About a year after, he went to Utah and became a Mormon. Within a month he sent me cards for his wedding, with Hannah Watson. So I went out and bought a sublime cake basket and forwarded it by express. Two weeks later he wrote to say that Hannah's sister, Ethelberta, had been sealed to him, and he asked me out to the wedding."

"Did you go?"

"No, but I sent him another cake basket. But hardly had a fortnight elapsed when Stephens telegraphed to me that as old Mrs. Watson, Hannah's and Ethelberta's mother, seemed so lonely now that her girls were gone, he had concluded to annex her, also. He promised to send full particulars by mail. That night a third resplendent cake basket went west, in charge of the express company."

"You have paid him three to one of them."

"Three? Wait till I get done. Well, I heard nothing more from him for a year or more, when one day cards came for his marriage with Louisa G. Cuthbert. I was pretty poor about that time, and hardly able to make presents to anybody, but I had pledged my word so out went another imposing cake basket."

"Did he get it?"

"He wrote and said his darling Louisa thought it was beautiful, and he added a postscript, in which he mentioned that he had arranged for a further consolidation on the following Thursday with Helen Bilkershim, relict of old Bilkershim, the popular butcher."

"Did you respond?"

"I did. I borrowed some money from a friend and forwarded the most stupendous cake basket I could find. At the same time I wrote to him and asked him if he didn't think it most time to knock off. He replied and said he was sorry I had such narrow views about matrimony, particularly as he had everything ready for another marriage on the following Tuesday with Mary Jane Wilberforce, a charming girl of prominent family."

"You didn't send one to her, did you?"

"Of course! Couldn't back my word! She got the most impressive cake basket I could lay my hands on. Well! Stephens didn't stop there. That was two years ago. He has married eight times since, and I have gone to take presents with the cake baskets. Three days ago I received notice that he was going to marry again."

"Again?"

"Yes, again! But you know let's him out! What does the man mean? Does he suppose that I own a cake basket factory, where they turn out such a crank? Does he suppose I have a mine where we excavate baskets by the bushel? Has he got an idea that cake baskets grow on a tree, and that all I've got to do is to knock 'em down with a pole when they are ripe? Why, he's an unmitigated ass! And is he willing to let me off from my promise? I'm going out to massacre him. You understand? In less than three days there will be a dozen or more widows in Salt Lake City gone to see a man named Smith buried."

Then Mr. Lockwood turned gloomily away, sharpened his knife again on his boot, and relapsed into silence.

It was a little hard on him, I think, myself. Max Adeler.

LAME BACK AND RHEUMATISM
CURED BY
COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS

Messrs. Weeks & Potter, Gentlemen,—One year ago I was seized within a severe attack of Rheumatism in my right hip, of which I was subject. I tried the various patent hits and rheumatic cures, but with no benefit to speak of, when my son, a druggist, suggested to me to try the Collins Voltaic Plaster. The effect was almost magical, for, to my great surprise, I was at least comfortably well again, and was able to work upon my farm as usual. Whereas, before the application of the Plaster, I could do nothing, and every step was in pain. A few weeks after, one year from the first attack, the disease returned, but I am happy to say the second Plaster proved as efficacious as the first, and I am now well. My wife wishes me to say that one Plaster has cured her of a very painful back. We think there is nothing in the world of real merit that can compare with the Collins Voltaic Plaster. Our friends, Dan and Tom's Back, we can cheerfully recommend them to the suffering. Yours very respectfully,
OURLAND, Me., June 6, 1877. DOLPHIN COTTON.

NOT A QUACK NOSTRUM.

Gentlemen—I hereby certify that for several years past I have sold Collins' Voltaic Plasters in my practice, and I do now say that I find no [illegible] of them. [illegible] WM. COLLINS.

"Yes, again! That you know let's him out! What does the man mean? Does he suppose that I own a cake basket factory, where they turn out one with a crank? Does he suppose I have a mine where we excavate baskets by the bushel? Has he got an idea that cake baskets grow on a tree, and that all I've got to do is to knock 'em down with a pole when they are ripe? Why, he's an unmitigated ass! And as he won't let me off from my promise, I am going out to massacre him. You understand? In less than three days there'll be a dozen or so widows in Salt Lake City going to see a man named Smith buried."

Then Mr. Lockwood turned gloomily away, sharpened his knife again on his boot, and relapsed into silence.

It was a little hard on him, I think, myself. Max Adeler.

CATARRH

Sneezing Catarrh, Chronic Catarrh, Ulcerative Catarrh, permanently cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is a safe, certain and permanent cure for Catarrh of every form, and is the most perfect remedy ever devised. It is purely vegetable, distillation, and is applied locally by inspiration, and constitutionally by internal administration. Locally applied, relief is instantaneous. It cleanses the head, and removes the nasal passages of every feeling of fullness, obstruction, dryness or fetidness. Constitutionally administered it removes the blood, purifies it of its poisonous properties, and renders healthy tissue, and finally eliminates the disease. When all other remedies certainly fail, Sanford's Radical Cure, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it. Bowel relaxes. My statement is made regardless of the fact that it can be substantiated by the most unquestionable testimony. It is a perfectly safe and good medicine, and is worthy all the attention of Catarrh sufferers. Manufactured by the Proprietor, Dr. Sanford, Corner Fulton and Nassau streets, Brooklyn, N. Y. Price $1.

LAME BACK AND RHEUMATISM

CURED BY

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS

Messrs. Weeks & Potter, Gentlemen,—One year ago I was troubled with an severe attack of Rheumatism in my right leg, at which I was subject. I tried the various liniments and rheumatic cures but with little benefit, when I put on a dry plaster, since then I have not felt a twinge of the disease. The relief was almost magical, for, to my grateful surprise I was at once enabled to walk well again, and was able to work upon my farm as usual. Wishing to try the application of the Plaster, I could do nothing, and every step was in pain. A few weeks since, one year from the first attack, the disease returned, but I am happy to say the second Plaster proved as effectual as the first, and I am now well. My wife wishes me to add that one Plaster has cured her of a very painful back. We think there is nothing in the world of remedies that can compare with the Collins Voltaic Plasters. Our friends shall hear from us. Yours very respectfully,

Hon. Richard J. Oglesby will discuss the political questions of the day before the people at the following places and times: Pontiac, Tuesday, August 27, Kankakee, Wednesday, August 28; Kingham, Thursday, Sept. 5; Danville, Saturday, September 7. On Friday, September 6, he will deliver an address at the reunion of the survivors of the 125th Regiment Illinois Infantry, at Casey, Clark county.

Senator Thurman has been asked a leading question, which he cannot answer, namely: "How happened it that the wealth of the Government kept so low under the 'prosperous era' of Democratic rule that the Buchanan Administration, in 1859, found it difficult to borrow money at 12½ per cent. interest, while now, under Republican rule, it can be had at 4 per cent?" Is there a Democratic or a National political leader in the United States who can answer the question?

The fall trade is already opening briskly in Chicago. The Journal says it is generally anticipated, and with good reason, that there will be great improvement in all lines of trade this fall, as compared with that of the past few years. One indication of the improvement in general business is found in the increase of freight business on western railroads. Thus on the Chicago and Pacific department Quincy road eighty [illegible] are loaded and arrive daily at Chicago.

A large number of Portuguese Americans yesterday celebrated, near Springfield, Ill., the thirty second anniversary of their arrival in this country. [illegible] between three and four hundred Portuguese residents of Springfield, who had been driven from their homes by a continued and systematic persecution, came hither in the autumn of 1846. Many of them are now in this state, mainly in the counties of Sangamon, Morgan, Menard and Cass. The small band has increased in numbers to nearly, if not quite, 4,000, and, by industry, economy and temperance, has greatly prospered. They are good citizens.

Just for the suggestion it affords, it is not amiss to publish, now and then, an item like the following from the Corinthian, of Corinth, Miss.: What Ex-President Davis said at Mississippi City, recently, we indorse heartily.—Southern principles and southern feelings are by no means dead, and it is about time for the skulking cloak of policy to be cast aside, and for the honest manhood and true chivalry of the south to come to the front, and proclaim their fidelity to the lost cause. A few more such grand old patriots as Jefferson Davis, and it will not be long before the glorious south of ante bellum days will be restored. We say "Hurrah for Davis!" and defy the north to make the most of it. Give us ten years to get ready in, and then—we don't give a snap whether her school keeps or not.

THE I., B. & W. AND THE UNITED STATES COURTS.

It has already been stated in these columns that Treasurer Cooper, of Tazewell county, a few days ago levied on a train on the I., B. & W. for taxes due that county. We now learn from the Springfield Journal that on Wednesday last Receiver Wright obtained of Judge Treat, in the United States Circuit Court, an order restraining the Collectors of McLean, Tazewell, Peoria, DeWitt, Champaign, Vermilion, Piatt, Macon, Logan and Mason counties from levying upon or distraining the property of the I., B. & W. Railroad, or any other property in the hands of Receiver Wright. Also, directing the Treasurer of Tazewell county, or others who have made levy, to forthwith restore the property to the owner. The order provides, however, that it is issued without prejudice to rights or liens on account of taxes, and that if the road is sold the purchaser only acquires title subject to the claims of such officers for taxes. The treasurers have also permission to apply for modification of the order, upon proper notice.

The receiver is also granted leave, in another order, to prosecute suit in De Witt Circuit Court to enjoin and restrain collection of taxes upon its Havana and Champaign extension and the Decatur branch, for the year 1873. United States Marshal Roe left last night for Pekin, to serve the injunction and put Receiver Wright again in possession of the property of the road in Tazewell county. Peoria Transcript.

Concerning Charles Sumner's unhappy marriage but little is known, and that little mostly based on rumor. But recently, Mr. George W. Williams, a colored man who has acquired some local fame as an orator, has given to a reporter of the press some hints of the trouble that existed between Mr. Sumner and his wife. Mr Williams entered Mr Summer's law office just after the close of the War, where he remained for several years. It was shortly after he entered Mr Summer's office that he (Sumner) was married to Alice Hooper, a widow of the son of the late Samuel Hooper, late member of Congress from Massachusetts. Williams account of Summer's matrimonial infelicities are interesting, as showing the annoyances to which even the greatest of men are sometimes subjected. The narrative proceeds

Mrs. Sumner was a vivacious, attractive woman in society, but the cold, sedate, and dignified demeanor of the Senator rendered them as uncongenial as Mr. and Mrs. Bombey. She was fond of evening parties, and he would soon tire of their gayeties. Finding no one who could converse with or listen intelligently to him, he would retire in quiet to one side, and wait solemnly the pleasure of his lady. At times he would become impatient at her delay, and make special requests for her departure. They were granted usually at her pleasure, and their return home at such times was always conspicuous from its silence. Mrs Sumner had been accustomed probably to many indulgences by her first husband, and liked to have the management of her household affairs. The arrangements of her husband suffered from this. The clippings he made from books and newspapers, and systematically arranged in rows on the wall, fastened by pins, did not escape her sense of order.

"Why," said he one morning to William, pacing in evident perturbation through his office, "my wife has swept all my clippings into the wastebasket." They did not remain together long. One day Sumner came to his office with a darker cloud than usual on his brow. A little later his wife's father came in, and, in tones half of alarm and half of inquiry, exclaimed, "Alice has gone?" "Yes," said Mr Sumner, in a voice of tragic sternness, "Alice has gone," and afterward he only referred to her from necessity.

An Undeniable Truth.

You deserve to suffer, and if you lead a miserable unsatisfactory life in this beautiful world, it is entirely your own fault and there is only one excuse for you your unreasonable prejudice and skepticism, which has killed thousands. Personal knowledge and common sense reasoning will soon show you that Green's August Flower will cure you of Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, with all its miserable effects, such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual costiveness, dizziness of the head, nervous prostration, low spirits, etc. Its sale now reaches every town on the Western Continent, and not a druggist but will tell you of its wonderful cures. The Boston Journal compiles some statistics in regard to the number of workingmen who have held seats in the Massachusetts legislature, and the investigation knocks the bottom out of some of the Socialistic arguments that are to the effect that the laboring men have had too little representation in the halls of legislation. The Journal finds that from 1868 to 1878, inclusive, there were elected to the Massachusetts Legislature 3,080 men, of whom only 540 were lawyers, bankers, capitalists, or professional politicians, the remaining 2,540 having been workingmen. If the workingmen have not been well represented, it is their own fault.

Her faithfulness I prove.

Detective Association

The Tuscola Journal gives the following account of the meeting at Atwood last week: "The horse thieves' detective association of the Wabash Valley held their annual meeting in Atwood, last Tuesday. Fifty four delegates, representing fifty four organizations, were present, and reports from every quarter showed the association in excellent condition. It is eighteen or twenty years old, and has rendered valuable assistance to the regular law in catching equine abductors. The next meeting will be held in Covington, Ind., on the 13th of August, 1879. John S. Gray, of Crawfordsville, Ind., is president, and a Mr. Jones, of Danville, Ill., is secretary. By far the greater part of the association is in Indiana, and they passed through Tuscola on their way to Atwood, in a special coach attached to the regular west bound freight train, Monday evening. Tuesday evening, the party returned by regular passenger train on the I., B. & S. railway, to Chrisman, where they went north over the P. & D. road to Danville. Several ladies accompanied the delegates. They all spoke very highly of the hospitality of the citizens of Atwood and vicinity. About 1,500 people attended the meeting in Atwood.

In old fashioned times it used to be considered a commendable thing for people to be industrious and saving in order to get ahead, if they could by honest toil, and not only keep themselves and families out of the poor house, but to lay up a small surplus for the demands of old age or misfortune. A thrifty, industrious man who paid his debts and contributed from his accumulations to the prosperity and development of the country was not regarded as a public enemy, not looked upon as a "lecherous, hell-bound thief," as the brute Kearney would call him, but rather as a good citizen whose example was well worthy of imitation. But under the teachings of the Socialistic and Communistic fanatics, every man who wears a clean shirt is a public enemy, and every man's wealth, no matter how honestly obtained, is considered prima facie evidence that he is a thief and a robber. As the Boston Journal much better expresses it: "When the school houses shall be torn down and teachers tarred and feathered, when the press shall be muzzled and the country ruled by such men as Butler, 'Brick' Pomeroy, Sam Cary, and that class, when those who save are regarded as public enemies, then the malignant and blasphemous utterances of Dennis Kearney will be generally applauded, and politicians of the Butler stripe will run no risk in doing him honor."

After a thunder storm away look to see if any part of yourself or apparel has been struck by lightning. Mrs. Cheney, of Salem, Mass., had her pocket book, containing $69 in bills, a silver half dollar and a railroad ticket, and fastened with steel clasps, struck by lightning during a shower last week. She felt the shock and smelled burning leather, but did not notice the effect until some time after, when she opened the wallet and found the greenbacks burned to a crisp, the silver coin black and on one side and the ticket scorched.

Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon, in a letter to a Boston lecture bureau, says: "I have never had the slightest idea of visiting America. If ever I should do so I could not preach or lecture for money. Excellent as your services doubtless are to those who need them, they could not possibly be needed by me. I should regard it as an utter prostitution of any gifts I possess if I were, as a servant of God, to use them to make money for myself in the way in which lecturers very properly do.

Belvidere, Ill., Aug. 23. One of the most terrible crimes ever committed in Boone county was perpetrated yesterday morning, and may yet result fatally. About 11 o'clock, as an aged maiden lady, named Miss Melissa Payne, was alone in her house near Big Thunder Mill, about one mile from the town proper, she was startled by the appearance on her premises of a large muscular and fierce looking negro tramp, whose clothes bore evidence of not having been changed for months. He demanded some food, and the kind hearted lady set about getting him something to eat. While thus engaged the scoundrel assaulted, robbed and bound her, and then outraged her. Miss Payne, who is over 50 years of age, was so terribly injured that she remained insensible until six o'clock last evening, when some of the neighbors discovered her condition and brought her to. She told the story as related above, and described her assailant minutely. The town was alarmed, and a large body of men have been searching for the wretch, who will probably be hung when captured. Miss Payne's condition is critical.

Wretchedness in New Orleans.

The Hard Times Committee.

HORACE WHITE'S EVIDENCE.

Memphis, Tenn., August 23.—The fever has been finally declared epidemic to day by the Board of Health. This means a recognition of their failure to keep it within the marked out boundaries of the infected district on Monroe street, east of Wellington, on Linden street, above Causey on Adams and Madison streets, and in the Worsham House. Groups of cases have appeared embracing whole families. In the infected district it rages wildly despite the paucity of people living there. The extent of the fever in proportion to the population, is about as bad as it was in 1873 and by its early appearance has one month longer to run than it had on its first visit. The new cases to day number forty five, of which four are colored, and ten deaths.

The doctors are divided as to the proper mode of treatment. The majority, comprising the physicians of better and greater notoriety, cling to the Creole yellow fever treatment of mustard bath, castor oil, heavy blankets and severe sweating. The opposition treat it as malignant malarial fever, with calomel and quinine. The mortality is great enough under both systems. Two days from now the ratio of deaths and cures may be properly judged, when the great increase of new cases of the last three days will have reached the crisis. The Howards have five physicians employed, and Gen. W. J. Smith, the hero of Grenada, has but a light case, exhaustion from his recent severe labors being the main trouble. Two hundred people were gotten off to the camps to night. The negroes held a mass meeting to-day, and pledged their efforts for law and order, but were not willing to go out on camps, as the Board of Health wishes them to do. They insist they are in no danger and should be given their rations in town. The city is unusually free of crime. The shadow of death eclipses all else.

New Orleans, Aug. 23. The daily health bulletin, although ostensibly encouraging, showing a decrease of eighteen deaths, is not satisfactory, as it is now certain that all the cases have not been reported. The total cases at 3 p. m. were 1,713, but the Howard Association, within the few days of its revival, has discovered 1,058 cases not previously reported, making a total of 2,771, which with 531 deaths, makes the mortality less than 20 per cent. With double the number poisoning the atmosphere than was supposed, the outlook is not so cheering as it seemed. Again are experienced those frightful episodes characteristic of all frightful epidemics. This morning a young Irishman, perhaps twenty five, halted under an awning at the corner of Canal and Basin streets, and seeming exhausted from over exertion, sat upon a door step. In the course of a few minutes he slid upon the sidewalk, his face turning purple with a raging fever. A policeman ran hastily for a charity wagon, but before it arrived his face became almost as black as a negro's, and as they lifted him into the covered vehicle black vomit poured in a flood over the driver. At 3 o'clock to day a frantic mother, with an infant in her arms, rushed into the office of the Howard Association, to implore aid for her dying child. While she was narrating her sufferings the little creature died, and her body was left in the building for interment. On Thursday a gentleman of your correspondent's acquaintance passed a wretched hovel a short distance above Carrollton, and found in an empty hovel, and in a state of putrefaction, the body of a man who had died of yellow fever the day before. Among the 500 Italians who removed to Camp Parapet four have died and how many more can not be known, as they drive away all intruders and are armed with double barreled guns loaded with buckshot. Deaths still almost exclusively confined to children strangers and aliens. But the prospect of an abatement seems to be growing more and more remote.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—The President, in conversation with a friend of General Grant, alluded to the statements which have appeared in the public prints to the effect that he had determined to have nothing to do with the friends of General Grant. The President said that this impression was entirely erroneous, that he had no prejudice against General Grant, or against his friends, that, on the contrary, he had provided places for some of General Grant's friends, and he intended to do so for more of them.

The Republicans of the Sixth District of Maryland, the only district of the State where there is a good prospect for the election of a Republican member of the House, in the convention at Frederick, yesterday, determined to sever all connection with the Republican State Committee because they assert that it is run entirely under the influence of the Baltimore Custom House.

New York, Aug. 23.—Horace White testified before the Hewitt committee, to-day, that he had studied finances carefully, and considered the present financial crisis one of a series that has occurred the past two hundred years among nations. They followed rampant speculation like that of 1873. The condition of the currency had not made the state of things worse. Witness thought the accumulation of property, acting on sanguine temperaments of a certain race of people, would produce a speculative era. Overproduction by machinery has decreased business by producing too great amounts, and lowering prices. A protective tariff would not raise wages, but might raise the prices of some commodities, and perhaps stimulate some branches of business. The wages of the laboring classes have greatly increased the past two hundred years. He recommended that tariff duties be removed from some raw materials. Surplus capital has been driven to bank vaults by the low rate of interest. A protective tariff injured business greatly. The government had no right to regulate or limit hours of labor. To do so was to infringe personal liberty and transfer a part of the wages of the employed to the unemployed. Every legislative attempt to transfer capital from the rich to the poor has made the rich richer and the poor poorer. It would be hazardous, and probably an unsuccessful undertaking, to use the proceeds of public land sales for colonization purposes. He did not think the surplus population in cities would be content to live on western lands, and if taken there would not stay.

Charles F. Adams, Jr., of Quincy, Mass., was called. Mr. Adams thought excessive railroad building led to the present depression. The government could not remedy matters by legislation at present, and had no right to supervise railroads. Ruinous competition had produced discriminations against certain localities. Perhaps we were getting to a point when the government may supervise railroads. A government commission might not alle iate depression of labor. Vanderbilt would have done better to attend to local business and left through business to take care of itself. Adjourned.

HON. RICHARD J. OGLESBY will discuss the political questions of the day before the people at the following places and times: Pontiac, Tuesday, August 27, Kankakee, Wednesday, August 28; Kingham, Thursday, Sept. 5; Danville, Saturday, September 7. On Friday, September 6, he will deliver an address at the reunion of the survivors of the 125th Regiment Illinois Infantry, at Casey, Clark county.

SENATOR THURMAN has been asked a leading question, which he cannot answer, namely: "How happened it that the Democratic party made so low under the 'prosperous era' of Democratic rule that the Buchanan Administration, in 1859, found it difficult to borrow money at 12½ per cent. interest, while now, under Republican rule, it can be had at 4 per cent?" Is there a Democratic or a National political economist in the United States who can answer the question?

THE fall trade is already opening fairly in Chicago. The Journal says it is generally anticipated, and with good reason, that there will be great improvement in all lines of trade this fall, as compared with that of the past few years. One indication of the improvement in general business is found in the increase of freight business on western railroads. Thus on the Chicago, Milwaukee and Quincy road eighty-five cars of freight are unloaded and arrived daily at Chicago.

A LARGE number of Portuguese Americans yesterday celebrated, near Springfield, Ill., the thirty second anniversary of their arrival in this country. They landed between three and four hundred Portuguese residents of the Azores Islands, who had been driven from their homes by a continued and systematic persecution, came to America, and settled in this state, mainly in the counties of Sangamon, Morgan, Menard and Cass. The small band has increased in numbers to nearly, if not quite, 4,000, and, by industry, economy and temperance, has greatly prospered. They are good citizens.

JUST for the suggestion it affords, it is not amiss to publish, now and then, an item like the following from the Corinthian, of Corinth, Miss.: What Ex-President Davis said at Mississippi City, recently, we indorse heartily.—Southern principles and southern feelings are by no means dead, and it is about time for the skulking cloak of policy to be cast aside, and for the honest manhood and true chivalry of the south to come to the front, and proclaim their fidelity to the lost cause. A few more such grand old patriots as Jefferson Davis, and it will not be long before the glorious south of ante bellum days will be restored. We say "Hurrah for Davis!" and defy the north to make the most of it. Give us ten years to get ready in, and then—we don't give a snap whether her school keeps or not.

THE I., B. & W. AND THE UNITED STATES COURTS.

It has already been stated in these columns that Treasurer Cooper, of Tazewell county, a few days ago levied on a train on the I., B. & W. for taxes due that county. We now learn from the Springfield Journal that on Wednesday last Receiver Wright obtained of Judge Treat, in the United States Circuit Court, an order restraining the Collectors of McLean, Tazewell, Peoria, DeWitt, Champaign, Vermilion, Piatt, Macon, Logan and Mason counties from levying upon or distraining the property of the I., B. & W. Railroad, or any other property in the hands of Receiver Wright. Also, directing the Treasurer of Tazewell county, or others who have made levy, to forthwith restore the property to the receiver. The order provides, however, that it is issued without prejudice to rights or liens on account of taxes, and that if the road is sold the purchaser only acquires title subject to the claims of such officers for taxes. The treasurers have also permission to apply for modification of the order, upon proper notice.

The receiver is also granted leave, in another order, to prosecute suit in De Witt Circuit Court to enjoin and restrain collection of taxes upon its Havana and Champaign extension and the Decatur branch, for the year 1873. United States Marshal Roe left last night for Pekin, to serve the injunction and put Receiver Wright again in possession of the property of the road in Tazewell county. Peoria Transcript.

CONCERNING Charles Sumner's unhappy marriage but little is known, and that little mostly based on rumor. But recently, Mr. George W. Williams, a colored man who has acquired some local fame as an orator, has given to a reporter of the press some hints of the trouble that existed between Mr. Sumner and his wife. Mr. Williams entered Mr. Sumner's law office just after the close of the War, where he remained for several years. It was shortly after he entered Mr. Sumner's office that he (Sumner) was married to Alice Hooper, a widow of the son of the late Samuel Hooper, late member of Congress from Massachusetts. Williams' account of Sumner's matrimonial infelicities are interesting, as showing the annoyances to which even the greatest of men are sometimes subjected. The narrative proceeds:

Mrs. Sumner was a vivacious, attractive woman in society, but the cold, stately, and dignified demeanor of the Senator rendered them as unmatched as Mr. and Mrs. Dombey. She was fond of evening parties, and he would soon tire of their gayeties. Finding no one who could converse with or listen intelligently to him, he would retire in quiet to one side, and wait solemnly the pleasure of his lady. At times he would become impatient at her delay, and make special requests for her departure. They were granted usually at her pleasure, and their return home at such times was always conspicuous from its silence. Mrs Sumner had been accustomed probably to many indulgences by her first husband, and liked to have the management of her household affairs. The arrangements of her husband suffered from this. The clippings he made from books and newspapers, and systematically arranged in rows on the wall, fostered by him, did not escape her sense of order. "Why," said he one morning to Williams, passing in evident perturbation through his office, "my wife has swept all my clippings into the wastebasket." They did not remain together long. One day Sumner came to his office with a darker cloud than usual on his brow. A little later his wife's father came in, and, in tones half of alarm and half of inquiry, exclaimed, "Alice has gone!" "Yes," said Mr Sumner, in a voice of tragic sternness, "Alice has gone," and afterward he only referred to her from necessity.

An Undeniable Truth.

You deserve to suffer, and if you lead a miserable unsatisfactory life in this beautiful world, it is entirely your own fault and there is only one excuse for you your unreasonable prejudice and skepticism, which has killed thousands. You can buy a sample bottle for 10 cents. Three doses will relieve you.

THE Boston Journal compiles some statistics in regard to the number of workingmen who have held seats in the Massachusetts legislature, and the investigation knocks the bottom out of some of the Socialistic arguments that are to the effect that the laboring men have had too little representation in the halls of legislation. The Journal finds that from 1868 to 1878, inclusive, there were elected to the Massachusetts Legislature 3,080 men, of whom only 540 were lawyers, bankers, capitalists, or professional politicians, the remaining 2,540 having been workingmen. If the workingmen have not been well represented, it is their own fault.

Her faithfulness I prove.

The highest at his feast.

Detective Association

The Tuscola Journal gives the following account of the meeting at Atwood last week: "The horse thieves' detective association of the Wabash Valley held their annual meeting in Atwood, last Tuesday. Fifty four delegates, representing fifty four organizations, were present, and reports from every quarter showed the association in excellent condition. It is eighteen or twenty years old, and has rendered valuable assistance to the red eyed law in catching equine abductors. The next meeting will be held in Covington, Ind., on the 13th of August, 1879. John S. Gray, of Crawfordsville, Ind., is president, and a Mr. Jones, of Danville, Ill., is secretary. By far the greater part of the association is in Indiana, and they passed through Tuscola on their way to Atwood, in a special coach attached to the regular west bound freight train, Monday evening. Tuesday evening the party returned by regular passenger train on the I., D. & S. railway, to Chrisman, where they went north over the P. & D. road to Danville. Several ladies accompanied the delegates. They all spoke very highly of the hospitality of the citizens of Atwood and vicinity. About 1,500 people attended the meeting in Atwood.

In old fashioned times it used to be considered a commendable thing for people to be industrious and save to get ahead, if they could by honest toil, and not only keep themselves and families out of the poor house, but to lay up a small surplus for the demands of old age or misfortune. A thrifty industrious man who paid his debts and contributed from his accumulations to the prosperity and development of the country was not regarded as a public enemy, nor looked upon as a "dishonest, hell-bound thief," as the brute Kearney would call him, but rather as a good citizen whose example was well worthy of imitation. But under the teachings of the Socialistic and Communistic Kearneys every man who wears a clean shirt is a public nuisance, and every man's wealth, no matter how honestly obtained, is considered prima facie evidence that he is a thief and a robber. As the Boston Journal much better expresses it: "When the school houses shall be torn down and teachers tarred and feathered, when the press shall be muzzled and the country ruled by such men as Butler, Brick Pomeroy, Sam Cary, and that class, whom those who save are regarded as public enemies, then the malignant and blasphemous utterances of Dennis Kearney will be generally applauded, and politicians of the Butler stripe will run no risk in doing him honor."

AFTER a thunder storm alway look to see if any part of yourself or apparel has been struck by lightning. Mrs. Cheney, of Salem, Mass., had her pocket book, containing $69 in bills, a silver half dollar and a railroad ticket, and fastened with steel clasps, struck by lightning during a shower last week. She felt the shock and smelled burning leather, but did not notice the effect until some time after, when she opened the wallet and found the greenbacks burned to a crisp, the silver coin black ened on one side and the ticket scorched.

REV. CHARLES H. SPURGEON, in a letter to a Boston lecture bureau, says: "I have never had the slightest idea of visiting America. If ever I should do so I could not preach or lecture for money. Excellent as your services doubtless are to those who need them, they could not possibly be needed by me. I should regard it as an utter prostitution of any gifts I possess if I were, as a servant of God, to use them to make money for myself in the way in which lecturers very properly do.

BELVIDERE, Ill., Aug. 23.—One of the most terrible crimes ever committed in Boone county was perpetrated yesterday morning, and may yet result fatally. About 11 o'clock, as an aged maiden lady, named Miss Melissa Payne, was alone in her house near Big Thunder Mill, about one mile from the town proper, she was startled by the appearance on her premises of a large muscular and fierce looking negro tramp, whose clothes bore evidence of not having been changed for months. He demanded some food, and the kind hearted lady set about getting him something to eat. While thus engaged the scoundrel assaulted, seized and bound her, and then outraged her. Miss Payne, who is over 50 years of age, was so terribly injured that she remained insensible until six o'clock last evening, when some of the neighbors discovered her condition and brought her to. She told the story as related above, and described her assailant minutely. The town was alarmed, and a large body of men have been searching for the wretch, who will probably be hung when captured. Miss Payne's condition is critical.

Wretchedness in New Orleans.

HORACE WHITE'S EVIDENCE.

MEMPHIS, TENN., August 23.—The fever has been finally declared epidemic to day by the Board of Health. This means a recognition of their failure to keep it within the marked out boundaries of the infected district on Monroe street, east of Wellington, on Linden street, above Causey on Adams and Madison streets, and in the Worsham House. Groups of cases have appeared embracing whole families. In the infected district it rages wildly despite the paucity of people living there. The extent of the fever in proportion to the population, is about as bad as it was in 1873 and by its early appearance has one month longer to run than it had on its first visit. The new cases to day number forty five, of which four are colored, and ten deaths.

The doctors are divided as to the proper mode of treatment. The majority, comprising the physicians of better and greater notoriety, cling to the Creole yellow fever treatment of mustard bath, castor oil, heavy blankets and severe sweating. The opposition treat it as malignant malarial fever, with calomel and quinine. The mortality is great enough under both systems. Two days from now the ratio of deaths and cures may be properly judged, when the great increase of new cases of the last three days will have reached the crisis. The Howards have five physicians employed, and Gen. W. J. Smith, the hero of Grenada, has but a light case, exhaustion from his recent severe labors being the main trouble. Two hundred people were taken off to the camps to night. The negroes held a mass meeting to-day, and pledged their efforts for law and order, but were not willing to go out on the camps, as the Board of Health wishes them to do. They say they are in no danger and should be given their rations in town. The city is unusually free of crime. The shadow of death eclipses all else.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 23. The daily health bulletin, although ostensibly encouraging, showing a decrease of eighteen deaths, is not satisfactory, as it is now certain that all the cases have not been reported. The total cases at 3 p. m. were 1,713, but the Howard Association, within the few days of its revival, has discovered 1,058 cases not previously reported, making a total of 2,771, which with 331 deaths, makes the mortality less than 20 per cent. With double the number poisoning the atmosphere than was supposed, the outlook is not so cheering as it seemed. Again are experienced those frightful episodes characteristic of all frightful epidemics. This morning a young Irishman, perhaps twenty five, halted under an awning at the corner of Canal and Basin streets, and seeming exhausted from over exertion, sat upon a door step. In the course of a few minutes he slid upon the sidewalk, his face turning purple with a raging fever. A policeman ran hastily for a charity wagon, but before it arrived his face became almost as black as a negro's, and as they lifted him into the covered vehicle black vomit poured in a flood over the driver. At 3 o'clock to day a frantic mother, with an infant in her arms, rushed into the office of the Howard Association, to implore aid for her dying child. While she was narrating her sufferings the little creature died, and her body was left in the building for interment. On Thursday a gentleman of your correspondent's acquaintance passed a wretched hovel a short distance above Carrollton, and found in an empty hovel, and in a state of putrefaction, the body of a man who had died of yellow fever the day before. Among the 500 Italians who removed to Camp Parapet four have died, and how many more can not be known, as they drive away all intruders and are armed with double barrelled guns loaded with buckshot. Deaths still almost exclusively confined to children strangers and aliens. But the prospect of an abatement seems to be growing more and more remote.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 23.—The President, in conversation with a friend of General Grant, alluded to the statements which have appeared in the public prints to the effect that he had determined to have nothing to do with the friends of General Grant. The President said that this impression was entirely erroneous, that he had no prejudice against General Grant, or against his friends that, on the contrary, he had provided places for some of General Grant's friends, and he intended to do so for more of them.

The Republicans of the Sixth District of Maryland, the only district of the State where there is a good prospect for the election of a Republican member of the House, in the convention at Frederick, yesterday, determined to sever all connection with the Republican State Committee because they assert that it is run entirely under the influence of the Baltimore Custom House.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Horace White testified before the Hewitt committee, to-day, that he had studied finances carefully, and considered the present financial crisis one of a series that has occurred the past two hundred years among nations. They followed rampant speculation like that of 1873. The condition of the currency had not made the state of things worse. Witness thought the accumulation of property, acting on sanguine temperaments of a certain race of people, would produce a speculative era. Overproduction by machinery has decreased business by producing too great amounts, and lowering prices. A protective tariff would not raise wages, but might raise the prices of some commodities, and perhaps stimulate some branches of business. The wages of the laboring classes have greatly increased the past two hundred years. He recommended that tariff duties be removed from some raw materials. Surplus capital has been driven to bank vaults by the low rate of interest. A protective tariff injured business greatly. The government had no right to regulate or limit hours of labor. To do so was to infringe personal liberty and transfer a part of the wages of the employed to the unemployed. Every legislative attempt to transfer capital from the rich to the poor has made the rich richer and the poor poorer. It would be hazardous, and probably an unsuccessful undertaking, to use the proceeds of public land sales for colonization purposes. He did not think the surplus population in cities would be content to live on western lands, and if taken there would not stay.

Charles F. Adams, Jr., of Quincy, Mass., was called. Mr. Adams thought excessive railroad building led to the present depression. The government could not remedy matters by legislation at present, and had no right to supervise railroads. Ruinous competition had produced discriminations against certain localities. Perhaps we were getting to a point when the government may supervise railroads. A government commission might not alleviate depression of labor. Vanderbilt would have done better to attend to local business and left through business to take care of itself. Adjourned.

WHERE OFF.—This forenoon as the passenger train due here at 11:30 was pulling into the depot, when the engine was about half way between Main and Water streets, owing to a box giving out, one of the forewheels of the locomotive came off and went kiting away to one side. Of course the end of the axletree dropped and brought the train to a sudden halt. No harm was done to cars or passengers beyond a little shaking up The cars were drawn back from the disabled locomotive and taken to the depot over a side track by the switch engine. It took some hours to get the machine righted up so that it could be taken to the round house

A SAD AFFAIR.

Mr. J. E. Edick Badly, if not Fatally, Injured by the Cars.

Many of the readers of the REPUBLICAN will remember Mr. J. E. Edick, who was for several years an employe in the freight office of the Wabash railroad in this city. About four years ago Mr. E. went from here to Latham, where he has since been the company's local agent. Yesterday afternoon Mr. E met with a terrible accident near the station at Latham, which will probably prove fatal He started to get upon a box car, when his foot slipped and he fell upon the track, the car wheels passing over one arm, severing it from the body near the shoulder. His left foot was also crushed and the leg mangled in a shocking manner. The accident will be a heavy set-back to Mr. Edick should he survive it, which is not probable He was a hard working, faithful servant of the road, and both he and his family will have the sympathy of the public in their trouble.

LATER.—At one o'clock this afternoon the injured man was lying as comfortable as could be expected. The arm that was practically severed from the body near the shoulder by the car wheel, has been amputated and dressed. It cannot yet be determined whether the crushed leg will have to be taken off or not. While there is a mere chance for Mr. E. to survive his injuries, the probabilities are strongly against him. From fuller information as to the manner of the accident, our reporter learned that he was between two box cars, which he supposed were coupled together, and was in the act of raising himself up to the ladder of one of them when not being coupled, the cars separated and he fell between them, the wheels of one passing over him as indicated.

A PLEASANT PARTY.—Yesterday, Messes D H. Heilman, J. Freeman, Rev. W. H. Presley, S. S. Jack, W R. Scruggs, with their families and visiting friends, and Mrs C Lukens and daughters in all numbering about forty resorted to the fair grounds for a day of out door pleasure The weather was all that could be desired; the lunch baskets were full (in the morning) to overflowing, and each and all devoted themselves to the pleasures of the day. Messrs Presley and Lewis took charge of the croquet grounds; Jack, of the camp fire and coffee making, the matrons, of arranging and spreading the dinner and supper, while Heilman and Freeman exercised a general supervision of the whole affair. The little fellows ran races, rode horseback, waded in the spring branch, and rehearsed their various acrobatic and musical accomplishments all of which was relished by the participants without in any way interfering with their ample enjoyment of cookies, jellies and fruits. The party returned to their homes about sundown, agreeing that it was one of the most pleasant days of their lives

BOUNTIFUL PEACHES. Last evening Mr M E Batchelder, of Illini township, laid upon our table three peaches on the tip of one branch, which weighed one pound and six ounces. One of them was only of ordinary size, so that the other two must have weighed over a half pound each They were grown from seed taken from common peaches bought in Decatur in 1865 These peaches measured 10½ inches in circumference, and Mr B. said that there were many growing on the same tree that would measure fully twelve inches around He also brought a few white peaches of considerably more than ordinary size, which are of superior quality

US THREE. Last evening about five o'clock, the attention of passers by was attracted by an animated harangue which was being delivered by a son of Erin, who was brimfull of distillery slops, to a couple of his countrymen in the same condition as himself. The two hearers were holding up the east wall of the Post Office building, a few feet from the sidewalk, while they stood in front of them The discourse seemed to be upon the oppression of the poor by the rich, and as the speaker waxed warm it became necessary for his hearers to extend a hand occasionally to keep him on his pins

A LUCKY FIND.

An Immense Deposit of Gravel on Cemetery Street.

The grading of Cemetery street, which is now in progress, has developed a bed of gravel which promises to be of very great value to the city. Just south of the entrance to Imboden's park the plough uncovered a deposit of gravel, which seemed to be of such superior quality as to warrant investigation. A hole was accordingly dug at the side of the street, and for a distance of seventeen feet the workmen continued to find a solid mass of the finest gravel—not a single seam of sand or clay intervening. The quality of the gravel is said to be much better even than that dug from the city gravel pit.

This fortunate "find" will enable the city authorities to improve Cemetery street at a trifling expense, on account of the great saving in hauling. The gravel can be shoveled out of the street and hauled to the localities desired without traversing any hills or going farther than a block in distance. It has been suggested that with such a quantity of gravel at hand the city should at once proceed to macadamize South Main street from the corner at the residence of W. H. Addis to the gate leading into the cemetery grounds. This would give two graveled drives to the cemetery The macadamizing of Merchant street, and also of Prairie street from Main to Water, have become a matter of necessity, and there will never be an opportunity of doing it cheaper than now, when the gravel can be drawn over solid streets and for such a short distance. This work ought to be set about at once, so as to complete it before winter

WHY THE HAIR FALLS OUT,

AND HOW TO RESTORE ITS STRENGTH AND COLOR Each hair is secreted by a little vessel or gland, the latter being nourished by a small blood-vessel As long as these blood-vessels furnish sufficient encouragement the hair will continue to grow; but if from disease or other cause they become torpid or obstructed, the hair will necessarily become dry and fall off. It is here the wonderful virtues of "London Hair Color Restorer" are manifested, as its tonic properties excite those hair follicles to increased activity and completely restore the scalp to a healthy condition, and a luxuriant growth of hair will follow. Its tonic and coloring qualities, "London Hair Color Restorer" is the most delicate and lasting of all hair dressings, making it indispensable on the toilet of every lady and gentleman Sold at 75 cents a bottle by all leading druggists.

Palatable, Powerful, Antiperiodic and Tonic.—All the necessaries of a great popular remedy are combined in Clifford's Febrifuge. As a tonic, in debilitated states of the system, this remedy stands pre-eminently at the head Yet it is more than is usually understood by that term, for no other preparation known exercises an eradicating power over intermittent diseases at all comparable with it. As it is probable that, in the intervals of the paroxysms of these diseases a train of morbid actions is going out of our sight, so it is equally probable that this remedy produces in the same system an action equally mysterious, which supersedes that of the malady, and thus accomplishes the restoration of the patient.

Of course the end of the axletree dropped and brought the train to a sudden halt. No harm was done to cars or passengers beyond a little shaking up The cars were drawn back from the disabled locomotive and taken to the depot over a side track by the switch engine. A SAD AFFAIR.

Mr. J. E. Edick Badly, if not Fatally, Injured by the Cars.

Many of the readers of the Republican will remember Mr. J. E. Edick, who was for several years an employe in the freight office of the Wabash railroad in this city. About four years ago Mr. E. went from here to Latham, where he has since been the company's local agent. Yesterday afternoon Mr. E met with a terrible accident near the station at Latham, which will probably prove fatal He started to get upon a box car, when his foot slipped and he fell upon the track, the car wheels passing over one arm, severing it from the body near the shoulder. His left foot was also crushed and the leg mangled in a shocking manner. The accident will be a heavy set-back to Mr. Edick should he survive it, which is not probable He was a hard working, faithful servant of the road, and both he and his family will have the sympathy of the public in their trouble.

Later.—At one o'clock this afternoon the injured man was lying as comfortable as could be expected. The arm that was practically severed from the body near the shoulder by the car wheel, has been amputated and dressed. It cannot yet be determined whether the crushed leg will have to be taken off or not. While there is a mere chance for Mr. E. to survive his injuries, the probabilities are strongly against him. From fuller information as to the manner of the accident, our reporter learned that he was between two box cars, which he supposed were coupled together, and was in the act of raising himself up to the ladder of one of them when not being coupled, the cars separated and he fell between them, the wheels of one passing over him as indicated.

A Pleasant Party.—Yesterday, Messrs D H. Heilman, J. Freeman, Rev. W. H. Presley, S. S. Jack, W R. Scruggs, with their families and visiting friends, and Mrs C Lukens and daughters in all numbering about forty resorted to the fair grounds for a day of out door pleasure The weather was all that could be desired; the lunch baskets were full (in the morning) to overflowing, and each and all devoted themselves to the pleasures of the day. Messrs Presley and Lewis took charge of the croquet grounds; Jack, of the camp fire and coffee making, the matrons, of arranging and spreading the dinner and supper, while Heilman and Freeman exercised a general supervision of the whole affair. The little fellows ran races, rode horseback, waded in the spring branch, and rehearsed their various acrobatic and musical accomplishments all of which was relished by the participants without in any way interfering with their ample enjoyment of cookies, jellies and fruits. The party returned to their homes about sundown, agreeing that it was one of the most pleasant days of their lives

Rot Series Peaches. Last evening Mr M E. Batchelder, of Illiot township, laid upon our table three peaches on the tip of one branch, which weighed one pound and six ounces. One of them was only of ordinary size, so that the other two must have weighed over a half pound each They were grown from seed taken from common peaches bought in Decatur in 1865 These peaches measured 10½ inches in circumference, and Mr B. said that there were many growing on the same tree that would measure fully twelve inches around He also brought a few white peaches of considerably more than ordinary size, which are of superior quality

Us Three. Last evening about five o'clock, the attention of passers by was attracted by an animated harangue which was being delivered by a son of Erin, who was brimfull of distillery slops, to a couple of his countrymen in the same condition as himself. The two hearers were holding up the east wall of the Post Office building, a few feet from the side walk, while they stood in front of them The discourse seemed to be upon the oppression of the poor by the rich, and as the speaker waxed warm it became necessary for his hearers to extend a hand occasionally to keep him on his pins

A LUCKY FIND.

An Immense Deposit of Gravel on Cemetery Street.

The grading of Cemetery street, which is now in progress, has developed a bed of gravel which promises to be of very great value to the city. Just south of the entrance to Imboden's park the plough uncovered a deposit of gravel, which seemed to be of such superior quality as to warrant investigation. A hole was accordingly dug at the side of the street, and for a distance of seventeen feet the workmen continued to find a solid mass of the finest gravel—not a single seam of sand or clay intervening. The quality of the gravel is said to be much better even than that dug from the city gravel pit.

This fortunate "find" will enable the city authorities to improve Cemetery street at a trifling expense, on account of the great saving in hauling. The gravel can be shoveled out of the street and hauled to the localities desired without traversing any hills or going farther than a block in distance. It has been suggested that with such a quantity of gravel at hand the city should at once proceed to macadamize South Main street from the corner at the residence of W. H. Addis to the gate leading into the cemetery grounds. This would give two graveled drives to the cemetery The macadamizing of Merchant street, and also of Prairie street from Main to Water, have become a matter of necessity, and there will never be an opportunity of doing it cheaper than now, when the gravel can be drawn over solid streets and for such a short distance. This work ought to be set about at once, so as to complete it before winter

WHY THE HAIR FALLS OUT,

And How to Restore its Strength and Color Each hair is secreted by a little vesicle or gland, the latter being nourished by a small blood-vessel. As long as these blood-vessels furnish sufficient encouragement the hair will continue to grow; but if from disease or other cause they become torpid or obstructed, the hair will necessarily become dry and fall off. It is here the wonderful virtues of "London Hair-Color Restorer" are manifested, as its tonic properties excite these hair follicles to increased activity and completely restore the scalp to a healthy condition, and a luxuriant growth of hair is the natural result. Apart from its unique and coloring qualities, "London Hair-Color Restorer" is the most elegant and lasting of all hair dressings, making it indispensable on the toilet of every lady and gentleman Sold at 75 cents a bottle by all leading druggists. Palatable, Powerful, Antiperiodic and Tonic.—All the necessaries of a great popular remedy are combined in Clifford's Febrifuge. As a tonic, in debilitated states of the system, this remedy stands pre-eminently at the head Yet it is more than is usually understood by that term, for no other preparation known exercises an eradicating power over intermittent diseases at all comparable with it. As it is probable that, in the intervals of the paroxysms of these diseases a train of morbid actions is going out of our sight, so it is equally probable that this remedy produces in the same system an action equally mysterious, which supersedes that of the malady, and thus accomplishes the restoration of the patient.
